Reaching out

As the community's partner in health, we provide several programs to support your health and promote healthy lifestyles.

We reach elementary school students and families with the health-focused outreach program, Growing Well with Mercy, which served more than 5,000 area children in the 2010/2011 school-year. For more information, visit mercyfolsom.org.

To help promote healthy lifestyles, we offer a variety of programs and services. For a listing of classes, visit mercyfolsom.org.
